

Washington Boys Playing on Army Eleven, Which Tomorrow Meets Notre Dame

CAPITAL TO WATCH WHAT ARMY ELEVEN DOES ON SATURDAY

Soldiers, in Facing Notre Dame, Meet Their First Real Opponent of Season.

NAVY BATTLES GENERALS

Timberlake and Stokes, Washington Boys, Are Identified With West Pointers.

By LOUIS A. DOUGHER.

Washington is peculiarly interested in the service football eleven, the Capital being the seat of the Government, and therefore all Washington will watch closely what the Army does with Notre Dame tomorrow at West Point. This will be the first really strong opponent the Soldiers have faced this season.

As a side issue, two former Washington intercollegiate players are identified with the Army. Timberlake, out of the game by reason of class work, has but recently rejoined the squad, and is making a great play for a place on the first eleven. Johnny Stokes is substitute for Captain McEwan at center, and stands an excellent chance of getting into the Notre Dame game, the Soldier captain being in poor physical condition. Signs point to Stokes being the first string center next season, with McEwan graduated.

Army has done well so far this season, though it has hardly faced an eleven of recognized skill. Washington and Lee is the best team it has played, and the Southerners were defeated, 14 to 7. Notre Dame is not credited this year with being as strong as in past years, but still Joseph Harper's crowd can put up a vicious exhibition of strategy, and then can switch to the latest style of aerial football. The South Bend aggregation should thoroughly test the strength of the Army just when it should be tested. What- ever weaknesses are disclosed should be remedied in plenty of time before the Soldiers go down to New York for their annual clash with the Navy at the Polo Grounds, November 25.

Coach Daly has in Oliphant and McEwan players of All-American caliber. Oliphant starred at Purdue before entering the Military Academy and he's been keeping up the good work ever since at West Point. He thinks nothing of galloping through the foe for five or six touchdowns a day. Indeed, he counts that day last when he doesn't keep up his record. He stands an excellent chance of being the year's best scorer.

McEwan is a mountainous man in the middle of the line, a well-oiled machine of defense. He is well-nigh terrible to the enemy.

But in addition to this pair, Coach Daly has Vidal, a halfback who can run the ball well, as well as ever Charlie Brickley or Eddie Mahan did for Fair Haven.

Army's line is built around McEwan, while the backfield consists largely of Oliphant and Vidal. There is no Merriam on the end this year, but with McEwan, Oliphant and Vidal to carry the brunt of the game the prospects of victory seem bright.

Tomorrow Washington and Lee will try its luck against the Navy eleven at Annapolis. The Soldiers won from the Generals and the Navy eleven, 14 to 7, the score of the West Pointers, who won, 14 to 7. It is expected that many Navy followers from Washington will be in the stands to see the game.

In Tibbott, Princeton has a most valuable dropkick, a player who almost always makes good in a pinch. His field goal against Tufts decided the victory, and was also the longest kick he has ever made in a big game, traveling forty-six yards. In the 1915 Dartmouth game he dropped a field goal from the 44-yard line and against Syracuse he kicked one from the 45-yard line, and another from the 30-yard line. Against Rutgers he booted a field goal from the 25-yard line and in the Harvard game came through with two, one from the 30-yard line and another from the 35-yard line.

The value of such a man as Tibbott is not so much for the field goals he kicks as for the frame of mind of his opponents who know his ability. They know that the moment he reaches the 40-yard line he may count three points for Princeton. He may not succeed in every effort, but he keeps the enemy on the anxious seat all the time, interfering with their regular game.

Catholic University leaves today for Lexington, Va., where the strong V. M. L. eleven is to be met tomorrow. The Brookland team is a well-rounded outfit, and is favored to win, but the home team has been strengthened by many players returning from the Texas border.

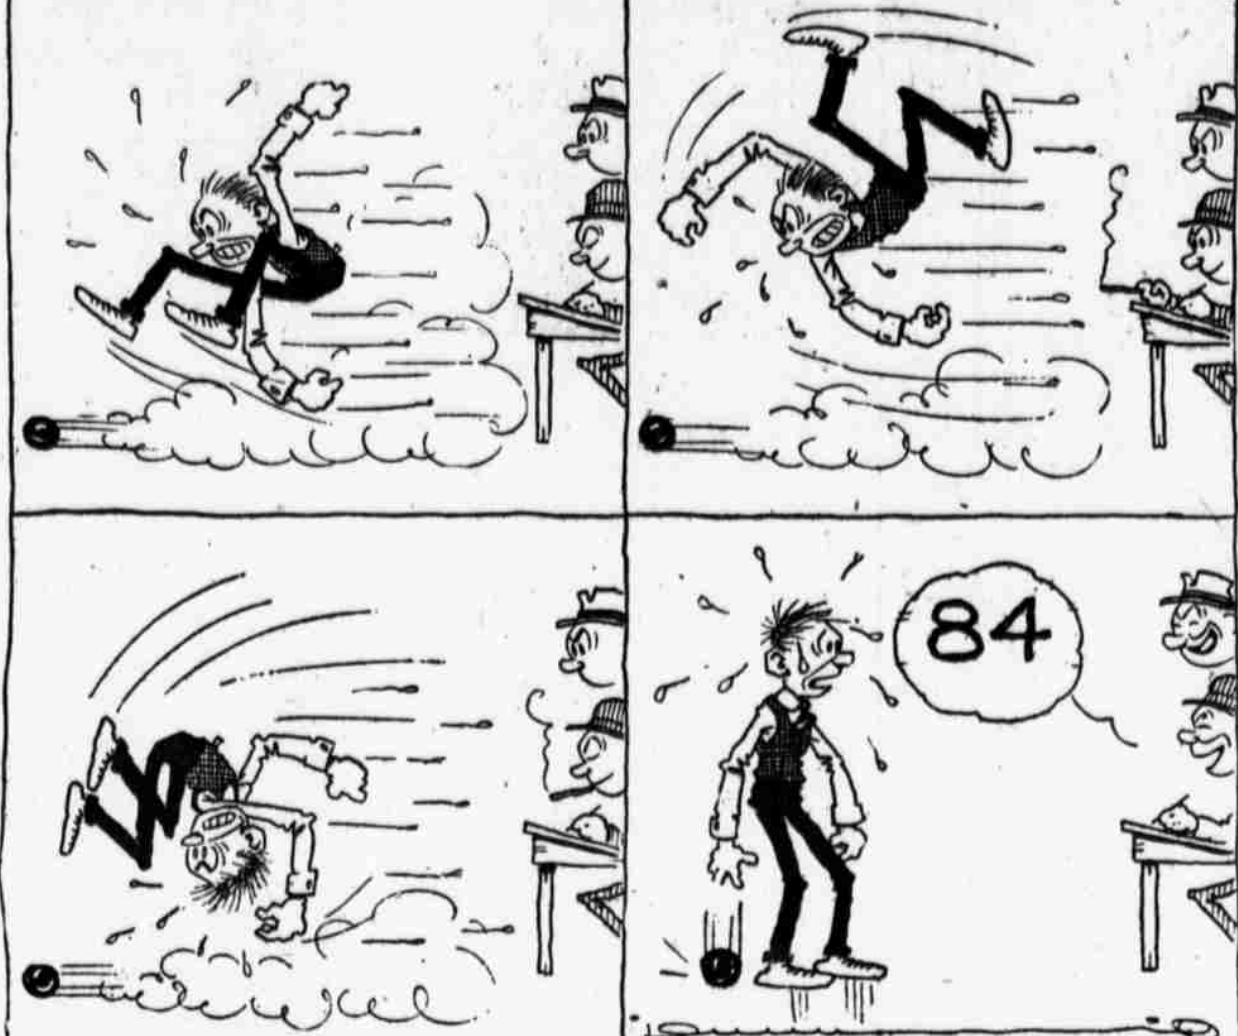

The East has won two out of three games from Western eleven thus far, as follows: Colgate, 15; Illinois, 3; Tufts, 12; Indiana, 10; Michigan, 14; Syracuse, 13. Six Southern teams have failed to win from Eastern eleven, as follows: Princeton, 3; North Carolina, 0; Harvard, 2; North Carolina, 0; Yale, 6; Virginia, 0; Army, 1; W. P. 0; Rutgers, 13; W. and L., 7.

Virginia Is Hopeful Or Holding Down Enemy

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 3.—Virginia's varsity squad is on its way to Cambridge, where it plays Harvard Saturday. Pat Evans and his charges do not expect to win from the heavier Cotton, but they are hopeful of holding down their foe.

A STORY IN ONE WORD

CENTRAL TO STAGE FALL TRACK GAMES

Foley's Youngsters Expected to Perform in Style Tomorrow in New Stadium.

By BRYAN MORSE.

Central will run off the first of its fall track meets tomorrow if the program recently announced is carried through. Coach Foley has a number of youngsters under his wing, and expects to put out a first class track team following the fall tryouts.

The Central lads have been working since the start of school. Tomorrow's meet will probably be for the first year boys. Another open meet is to follow for boys of all classes, and still another relay event later in the fall.

Exceptional track weather has made it possible for the Central lads to work just as in spring, and Coach Foley has been able to do a lot of work with the youngsters. Latta is captain of the track team this year. Central is also fortunate in having Walter Miltzard among the ranks.

There are any number of first rate performers in the Central team, and the meet is expected to help track in every respect.

Tomorrow the Georgetown Preps and the Army and Navy Preps hook up on Georgetown Field for the prep school title. Both elevens are primed for the contest, and a battle-royal will ensue. The Connecticut avenue lads will outweigh the Georgetown players, and are equipped with a number of first rate players.

Georgetown Preps have been put through a course of sprouts by Billy Martin, former Hilltop end. There are those who maintain that the contest will be the fastest of any of the school boys games this year. Neither coach is making predictions on the outcome, but there is a deal of interest in the battle from the high schools.

Western recently lost two first class athletes in Borden and Lerner. Borden was a first rate baseball player, and pole vaulter. Lerner, who has entered Lawrenceville, was counted upon to hold down the right forward position on the basketball team this winter.

Central reports the loss of a promising athlete in Borden and Lerner. Borden was a first rate baseball player, and pole vaulter. Lerner, who has entered Lawrenceville, was counted upon to hold down the right forward position on the basketball team this winter.

Mike Thompson, coach of the Baltimore City College eleven, of Baltimore, was here in conference with Principal Wilson, of Central High School, yesterday, and it was agreed to send Central to fill the engagement with the City College for tomorrow. Central had scheduled the game and then canceled on account of the shift in schedule here.

The Central lads will meet the Baltimore boys tomorrow afternoon. Coach Metzler taking the entire Central squad over for the battle. Central came out of the Business game in fine shape, and will have a rest in the title series for ten days following the Business engagement.

In order to keep up the rivalry between the school boys in Baltimore and Washington, Thompson came over for the express purpose of landing the battle. Central recently defeated the Baltimore Pulis, as did Tech, and a game with the City College eleven has been made a feature of the scholastic season in Baltimore.

FORDHAM PLANNING TO SMOTHER GILROY

Gargan and Moriarty Think They'll Stop His Running.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Johnny Gilroy, Georgetown's great running halfback, is going to be stopped with great suddenness if the plans of Coach Gargan and Moriarty, of Fordham, are successful. Both tutors saw Gilroy run wild against Albany, and they have outlined a trio of formations for the scrubs patterned on those from which the Georgetown star emerges to gallop forty or fifty yards. For an hour yesterday the varsity was drilled to break up these formations, and they were broken up.

The new manner of running back points with four players offering front interference and one on each side of the ball is expected to gain much ground for the Maroon against Georgetown.

Bowie Season Starts When Pimlico Closes

With the close of Pimlico on Monday, November 13, Bowie will be the Mecca for all who are interested in horses, as the fall meeting, November 14 to November 20, inclusive, of the Prince George's Park track ends the racing season for 1916. Many horses are entered, the fields will be large and of high class. Archie Zimmer, Emil Herz, J. Arthur, W. F. Carman, and several others who have raced at every Bowie meeting since its opening predict that it will be such a fine one it will be the talk of horsemen during the long winter days to come.

Melon for Welsh.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 3.—Ad Wolgast, world's former lightweight champion, announced here today that he has signed with Tia Jouda promoters for a 20-round bout, and Freddie Welsh on New Year Day. Wolgast stated that he would receive $10,000 for his end of the purse.

BRUCE MAY SUCCEED AUGUST HERRMANN

Commission's Secretary Being Groomed for Bigger Job. Herrmann's Friends Hope.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—John H. Bruce, secretary of the National Baseball Commission, is being groomed for chairman of the commission, to succeed August Herrmann, if the latter is ousted by the magnates of the National and American leagues, according to information in baseball circles here today.

In spite of the confident assertion of President Ban Johnson, of the American League, that the commission is to be reorganized, friends of Herrmann insist that a deadlock probably will follow an attempt to oust him. They declare that the St. Louis club, of the American League, will stand by him, even if all the other magnates of the circuit oppose him. No other reason, they declare, is necessary beyond the fact that President Ban Johnson, of the Pittsburgh Nationals, is against him as a result of the Slater case.

Harry Frazee, owner of the Boston Red Sox by only a few shares, already is claimed as a friend of Herrmann. Herrmann, from his home in Cincinnati, declines to talk on the opposition to him. He is quoted as saying: "It still seems best for me not to make a statement. Let the rest of them do the talking. I'll simply stand on the record of my administration. Why should I enter into any controversy?"

CARRIGAN WILL NOT RETURN TO RED SOX

Winning Manager Insists He Is Through With Game.

LEWISTON, Me., Nov. 3.—"I am through with baseball for good," said Manager Bill Carrigan, of the World Champion Red Sox, today, when asked if he would consider an offer from the new owners of the Red Sox to manage the team again. "I announced before the close of the American League season that I would retire after the world's series, and what I said then goes now," Boss Bill continued. "I am satisfied down here in the Pine Tree State where I have many things to look out for. If I was again in charge of the Red Sox those important matters would be neglected, so I prefer to stay right where I am at present."

Yale Retains Quail.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—Billy Quail, the veteran long-distance runner, today re-engaged as coach of the Yale cross-country team. The contract will be in effect for the next three years.

HARRY FRAZEE NOW WAITS FOR JOHNSON

Refuses to Worry, Though, Over Completion of Deal Making Him a Magnate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Until it is ratified by the several American League owners the deal which is to give the Red Sox to Harry H. Frazee, Hugh Wadsworth and Lawrence Weber, of this city, cannot be closed. This information was sent out by B. B. Johnson, president of the league, who stated that he had received information of the sale from Joseph J. Lannin, former owner, but was not in position to say it would be accepted until he had heard from the owners.

Frazee refuses to be alarmed about the slow action of the league owners and is going ahead with his plans of taking over the business of the club. Undoubtedly he will become president as soon as the final papers are signed. As yet there only exists an agreement whereby Lannin promises to sell to Frazee, Wadsworth and Weber his holdings in Boston for $25,000. Although it was not announced, only a small amount of money has changed hands as yet, the balance to be paid when the transaction is satisfactory to all concerned.

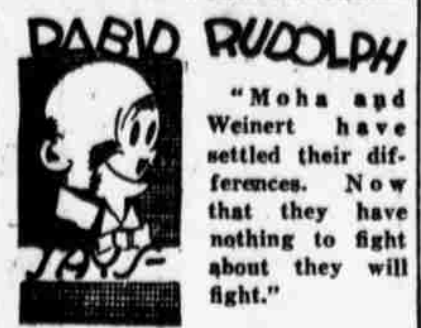

Driggs Only Princeton Player Sure of Berth

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 3.—Eddie Driggs, Princeton's kicker, and the man who won from Dartmouth, is the only varsity player sure of his berth. Kauffman, from Washington, D. C., has entered the running for a tackle berth in place of McGraw, and he looms up as a possible varsity star. Cooney's work at quarter may give him a chance Saturday. Haaren and Geogel, from the second team, are battling hard to make the varsity backfield.

Ryan Is Promoted.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 3.—Ryan, who played end on the Notre Dame eleven two years ago, has been promoted to the varsity by Coach Haughton, and may play against Virginia tomorrow. Many second string men will be tried out tomorrow. Harvard not fearing the Southerners.

WONDER HOW A UNIVERSITY OF PENN. FAN ANNOYS HIMSELF WHEN THE FOOTBALL SEASON IS OVER.

Duke Fultz and Ben Johnson never get anywhere in their arguments. Just like two deaf and dumb girls trying to talk with the lights out.

Graduation should strengthen Cornell's chances for next season.

American fighters who go over to fight Lee Darcy can't tell you much about Australia. All they see is the ceiling.

Harvard hasn't got much of a football team, but they don't need one this year.

Can't blame football players for tackling each other around the heads. Coaches instruct them to find the weak spots.

At least there will be no false hopes at Cornell. After a try lights on tonight if the team is to fight out where he is going to spend the summer.
